The image shows four rolls of fabric, each with a unique pattern and texture. The rolls are arranged diagonally from the top-left to the bottom-right. The top-most roll is a light beige color with a subtle, repeating geometric pattern. The second roll from the top is a darker beige or tan color with a prominent, repeating zigzag or chevron pattern. The third roll is a light grey or off-white color with a fine, grid-like or woven texture. The bottom-most roll is a very light, almost white color with a similar fine, grid-like texture. The lighting is soft, highlighting the textures and patterns of the fabrics.

The image shows two pieces of fabric. The left piece, labeled 'MAHDIA', has a light-colored background with a repeating pattern of stylized, overlapping leaf or feather shapes. The right piece, labeled 'NEFTA', has a light-colored background with a fine, repeating grid or woven pattern. The two pieces are positioned diagonally, with the 'MAHDIA' fabric on the left and the 'NEFTA' fabric on the right.

The image shows a close-up of two different fabric textures. The top-left portion features a fine, light-colored grid pattern on a darker background. The bottom-right portion features a herringbone pattern, consisting of repeating V-shaped lines in a light color against a darker background. The two fabrics are layered, with the grid pattern fabric partially overlapping the herringbone fabric.
